Keith McGowan writes novels for children ages 8 and up. His first book was well reviewed by The New Yorker, USA Today, and Publisher's Weekly. He writes full-time, but has occasionally put together a group of motivated kid writers to teach them the ins and outs of writing fiction. For more information on Keith McGowan, visit www.workshop@keithbooks.com

Students applying for this club will require a teacher's recommendation to join.

*Please note that your student can bring a snack.
